

The Sirius 6200 Series

Unmatched lifetime durability, virtually maintenance-free

Durability, Convenience, Beauty

The Hörmann Sirius 6200 Series combines designer elegance with exceptional quality, to add lasting curb appeal to your home. The durable high-density polyethylene (HDPE) door panels are virtually maintenance-free and will never need painting. Rigid reinforcements provide structural strength to last a lifetime.

Enhance the individual look of your garage door by choosing from our wide range of windows or decorative design styles.

Extra protection

Vinyl weather seal between sections and panels helps keep the weather out.

Maximum energy savings

Polystyrene insulation with laminated backer provides an energy efficient barrier to the weather with an R-value of 5.0.

Lasting durability

High density polyethylene, woodgrain textured panel for strength and corrosion resistance.

Weather protection

The factory-installed U-shaped vinyl bottom weatherseal is attached to an aluminum retainer that helps keep the weather out.
